Park County Revamps Government Website

Park County government is pleased to announce the launch of a completely redesigned website. All departments took part in providing new content aimed at making it more convenient for the public to access county information.

Much of the information that previously required a phone call or visit to county offices is now available on-line. Park County officials and employees invite the public to explore the new official park county site still located at the familiar address of www.parkco.us

Park County Communications Presents First Annual Awards.

As part of the April 11 through 17, 2010 National Telecommunication Officer Week celebrations, the Park County Communications Department held its first annual awards ceremony on April 21, 2010.

Communications Officers Cassie Perrin and Gloria O'Conner were presented awards for Dedication, Professionalism and 911 Lifesaver Awards.

The Information Services and GIS Departments were presented awards for their continual dedication to service to the county and their valued input regarding the new 911 system installed last year.
